Assignment Instructions

- Include the names of the individuals in the group.
- Some sort of EDA (exploratory data analysis). Do not print the data, but do something that indicates you've uploaded the data and know what some of the variables are. You might have some summary statistics or a graph. This is not an extensive assignment.
- Outline the “something new” part of the assignment. You should indicate who is doing what, what resources each of you will use to learn about your new topic, and a few sentences on what the topic is or how it relates to survival analysis / the analysis at hand. Additionally, for each “new” thing, provide 1-2 sentences describing what will be challenging about learning something new
